NOMINATIONS FOR OFFICERS AND BOARD MEMBERS

If you are interested in serving as an officer or on a board, we need your nomination to be submitted by June 21. Please submit the nomination to Nancy Volz at (954) 473-6888.

The officer positions: President, Vice President, Treasurer, Corporate Secretary, Council Member at Large and Recording Secretary. The Vice President position is vacant. Those currently serving in the remainder of the positions on the Church Planning Council (CPC) have agreed to an additional one year term. This does not preclude you from submitting a nomination for any officer position.

The following are the boards: Property's Board, Lay Ministry Board, Outreach Board, School Board and the Children and Youth Ministry Board.

The term for officers and board members is one year. We are asking you to prayerfully consider serving with your time and talents. The talents needed include but are not limited to: the ability to plan, ability to execute your plan and the ability to empower others in the congregation to get involved.

If you have questions, please ask Chris Presson, Nancy Volz or Pastor Tony. Pastor Tony along with the CPC will review all nominations.

CELEBRATING MISS CARISA MEIER: 2026 EDUCATOR OF THE YEAR

Congratulations to Miss Carisa Meier on being nominated as Teacher of the Year at the Jacaranda Country Club on Wednesday, May 13, 2026. With 22 years of teaching experience, including 14 years at Our Savior Lutheran Church and School, Miss Meier is recognized for her innovation, dedication, and commitment to student success. Holding degrees in Education and Church Music, as well as a Master's in Reading, she seamlessly blends traditional teaching methods with modern technology and collaborative learning. Beyond the classroom, she generously supports colleagues, co-directs the annual Christmas program, and faithfully serves as organist for church services. We are proud to celebrate Miss Meier's many contributions and this well-deserved honor as Our Savior's 2026 Educator of the Year.

Dear Our Savior Family,

Christ has risen! Alleluia! This salutation provides a necessary foundation as I share difficult news with you.

It is with deep sadness that I inform you of the death of John Waldron (72), our congregational vice president, who died on Sunday, May 10, 2026 in an automobile accident on University Drive in Sunrise.

John's sister, Robin, who lives in New York and is his next of kin, notified me after being contacted by the police department. The accident is still being investigated, and no other information is readily available. Robin asks for our prayers for their family and for John's daughter, Jodi (pictured above), as they navigate the days ahead. This is our prayer:

Merciful God and Father, graciously look upon the family of our departed brother, John. Remember us in all our sorrow and grief. Support us when we are unable to understand the things that happen to us and those we love. Comfort and console us, and grant that through Your merciful help we may have courage to face the days ahead; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Amen.

In faith,
Pastor Tony Durante

CHURCH FAMILY SUPPORT FOR JODI

Please keep Jodi in your prayers as she grieves the unexpected loss of her father, John. As her church family, we hope to surround her with God's love, comfort, and encouragement during this difficult time. For the time being, Jodi continues to live in a professionally supported group home facility in Margate. We would like our congregation to share God's love and presence as well as general comfort in these hard times. For those who are able, we encourage you to visit her or send colorful cards and cheerful pictures. Because she is autistic, her reading abilities are limited; however, she recognizes and especially appreciates music and colorful cartoons and recognizes images of Jesus. For additional information and points of contact at her facility, please contact the church office at (954) 473-6888.

MEET NEW MEMBERS: Bryan & Lorna Goodluck

We warmly welcome Lorna and Bryan Goodluck to our church family!

Originally from Georgetown, the retired couple recently relocated from Maryland and are enjoying meeting new people and traveling. Lorna, who was raised in the Lutheran and Methodist traditions, visited our church, enjoyed the warm fellowship and Pastor Tony's sermons, and decided to become a member. She has a special interest in childcare, visitation, and caring ministries.

Bryan appreciates our church's teachings which reminds him of his own religious upbringing in the Anglican and Methodist church. He brings interest and experience in building and construction, as well as finance and accounting.

You can find Lorna and Bryan worshipping with us at the 10:30 a.m. service. We are blessed to have them with us and look forward to their fellowship and service!

MEET NEW MEMBERS: Ginette Orrette & Flavia

We excited to welcome Ginette to our church family! Originally from Trinidad and Tobago, Ginette and her husband, Colin, have two young children who currently attend our school. She works as an optometrist and enjoys traveling and spending time with her family.

Speaking about her experience at the church, Ginette shared, “The members and Pastor have always treated me like family ♡.”

Please also join us in welcoming Flavia to our church family! Originally from San Lorenzo, Paraguay, Flavia has worked as a flight attendant for the past 20 years. In her free time, she enjoys gardening and cooking. Her son, Roman, attended Our Savior Lutheran School, and together they quickly found a home within both the school and church community. Roman is currently participating in Confirmation classes and has faithfully served as a crucifer during special services.

When asked about her experience at the church, Flavia shared, “OSL has a small community of very caring people. We are always very welcomed at Sunday service. Pastor Tony and his family have brought together an amazing group of people who share the same love for the Lord.”

We are blessed to have Ginette, Colin, Flavia, and their children as part of our church and school community! You can find them all worshipping at the 10:30 a.m service.

ANNUAL POLICE MEMORIAL CEREMONY Delray Police Department held its annual police memorial ceremony on May 15, 2026. Pastor Tony and fellow chaplains at Delray Beach attended (pictured above). A flower wreath is placed before the memorial stone each year during. Pastor Tony has been a chaplain with the Delray Beach Police Department since 2013.

JAN'S HEALTH UPDATE

Hello Family and Friends,

Jan was discharged from the hospital this past Tuesday—she is so happy to be home! Her son Erik arrived just in time to bring her home and be with her for the next week...doctor appointments, blood draws, transfusions, bone marrow biopsy, the journey continues....

Her doctors are positive about how she is responding to the chemo and are taking no risks with infection or virus - the medications are endless —there is always something new to add to the mix of targeted therapy.

The next round of chemo will be determined in the next few weeks

Jan remains positive, eating well, moving around keeping her strength, and resting regularly. She also looks absolutely beautiful with her new hairdo (not pictured)!

—Mary (Jan's sister)

I feel so blessed to have such an amazing family supporting me through this journey and the prayers keep coming in from my community of believers and all over the states through all of you. It really does take a village, and I feel all the love.

Most important is that God is with me all the time and I had many opportunities to speak the name of Jesus in the hospital with many of my caregivers.

*I Love you all,
Jan*

BLESSING OF HANDS On May 7, Pastor Tony Durante gave blessings to nurses at Encompass Health and Rehabilitation Hospital of Sunrise as part of Nurse Appreciation Week. The chief nursing officer of the facility invited Pastor to come that day and lead a Blessing of Hands Ceremony, a tradition believed to have been started by Florence Nightingale in the 1800's, that involves anointing the hands of nurses. It is an affirming gesture reminding them that their hands are means to deliver godly compassion to patients. With scripture readings and prayer, Pastor Tony encouraged the nearly twenty nurses who attended the gathering. He pronounced a blessing upon each nurse as he poured water over their hands. Our Savior Member Mercedes Camacho was among the nurses who participated in the ceremony.

FOLLOWING THE EXODUS: FROM THE NILE TO SINAI

Member Raul Martinez recently returned from his 21-day spiritual journey through Egypt. His trip began in the middle of April, and he returned at the beginning of May. The adventure took him through Egypt from sky, land, and sea—planes, hot air balloons, cruises, busses, camel-back, and on foot.

When asked about his inspiration, he remarked, “As a little kid, these are stories you hear over and over again; they’re ingrained in you.” So, he had to see it for himself. Initially, he aimed to witness the sites of Mt. Sinai, the burning bush, and Nile River, but he saw much more. The sheer scale and austere conditions astounded him: The Red Sea was endless and wide and seemingly more impassible than the Bible proclaims; the Nile River was several times wider than a creek and more turbulent than a baby could comfortably endure, let alone drift across safely; and the desert was inhospitable for a sanctuary for God’s chosen. “Moses was in a lot of these places in Egypt. It’s unbelievable just how much stuff is there,” Raul observed.

Mt. Sinai with UNESCO World Heritage site, Saint Catherine's Monastery sitting at its base.

① The burning bush, found in the UNESCO World Heritage Site, St. Catherine's Monastery. It has extensive and profound historical, architectural, and cultural significance for the Jewish, Christian, and Muslim peoples. The monastery is one of the oldest, founded in the 6th century by the Byzantine Emperor Justinian the First. ② The bell tower at the St. Catherine's Monastery.

③ The massive Cave Church (Monastery of Saint Simon) hides in the limestone cliffs of Mokattam Mountain in Cairo, Egypt. It is one of the largest churches in the Middle East. The church was named after St. Simon the Tanner, a legend in the Coptic Orthodox Church, which owns it. Raul recounts he saw several carvings on the cave walls. The amphitheater-style gathering space provides ample space for 20,000 worshipers. For comparison, the Notre-Dame in Paris can only hold 6,000 to 9,000 people.

Raul took two separate groups of six people to watch the sunrise over the Red Sea during his vacation.

⑤ Statues of Pharaoh Ramesses II and Queen Nefertari at the Great Temple in Abu Simbel.

They were carved with two other statues directly into the sandstone to guard the temple. Each statue is 66 feet tall with the intent to overwhelm and intimidate anyone crossing into their frontier. Historians make a distinct note that Nefertari was made to the same scale as her husband, a unique and rare honor as queens were often made smaller than the pharaohs.

⑥ The interior of the Great Temple of Abu Simbel in Egypt. Pharaoh Ramesses II commissioned its architecture around 1264 B.C. with the interior wall intricately carved with accounts of his military campaigns and other iconic religious reliefs.

7 The second temple at Abu Simbel is a smaller temple dedicated to the goddess Hathor and Queen Nefertari. Again, this was a significant honor for a queen at the time, and expressed Ramesses II's favor, respect, and devotion to his wife.

8 Statues of the pharaohs within the Great Temple of Abu Simbel. Pictured is a man roughly 6-foot tall for scale. Twice a year, around the time of Ramesses's birth (ca. February 22) and coronation (ca. October 22), the sun's rays hit hidden statues and creep along the entire length of the corridor all the way to the deepest chamber of the Great Temple (roughly 60-65 meters). This illustrates the Egyptian builders' mastery of astronomy and engineering as well as their innovative intentionality and ability to commemorate their religion and politics.

9 The Kiosk of Trajan (98-117 AD) is a small pavilion constructed by the Romans during their rule over Egypt. The architecture blends Roman craftsmanship with Egyptian temple design. Historians believe it served as a ceremonial landing station for sacred boats for the god Isis.

⑩ Inside the tomb of Ramesses III in the Valley of the Kings in Luxor, Egypt. Raul notes that while some tombs had ample space to stand and walk, others were so cramped that even people less than six feet tall needed to crouch to navigate its catacombs.

⑪ The Temple of Horus (237–57 BCE). The Court of Offerings is as the name suggests. It houses one of the most complete surviving sets of religious hieroglyphs, giving us an eye into spiritual, political, and historical affairs at the time. Its iconic elements include the 33–43-foot tall sandstone columns as pictured above. The Egyptians designed them to withstand the weight of the roof and control the acoustics for a meditative audio effect depending on the space. Though stripped with time of their original vivid paints, this temple is one of the best preserved temples in all of Egypt due to being made with resilient materials and being once buried under sand. Archaeologists did not begin to uncover it until the 19th century.

GODSPEED FOR BROCK On Sunday the 17th, the church prayed for Brock Van Sant, a long time member of the congregation who grew up at Our Savior Lutheran Church. Pastor Tony said a blessing for him and his parents, Kim and Mitch, as he departs us to do base training for aviation in the Marine Corps. May God bless and keep him safe as he prepares to serve our country.

Our Savior Lutheran Church
8001 NW 5th Street
Plantation, FL 33324

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Christ is Risen! Greetings of joy as we continue to celebrate our Lord's victory over Satan, Sin and Death through the cross and empty grave. Alleluia! Indeed, this is a time where we remember not only our need but that our neighbors have the same need and the Lord desires to provide for them the very same gift of grace and life. This is especially important as you celebrate 65 amazing years of laboring in the Lord's Harvest fields!

I wish I could be with you to celebrate, yet I give thanks for all the seeds that have been planted and the harvest that has resulted through the ministries and saints of Our Savior!

Please know that you will be in my prayers as you celebrate. Although this is a wonderful opportunity to consider the work and fruit over the past 65 years, I pray that this is also a time of renewed commitment to living as Christ's Church, His "Called-Out ones". Our Savior, like most congregations, may have had challenges at times, but the Lord has blessed and equipped you to live as His witnesses and share the wonderful message of God's grace through Christ alone!

May the Lord bless you as you look forward to the future with anticipation and hope. Jesus is at work among you as you continue to grow in His Word and Sacrament and personally reach into your community with the transformational message of peace and hope through ours and the world's only true Savior!

On behalf of your brothers and sisters in Christ across the Florida Georgia District, Happy 65th Anniversary!

Serving our Lord and His people with joy,

Rev. James H. Rockey
President, Florida-Georgia District LCMS\

Highlights from the Anniversary Celebration

Our Savior Lutheran Church Marks 65 Years of God's Grace & Blessings

by David Volz

Longtime members of Our Savior Lutheran Church, Plantation, and those who have joined more recently, came together on April 19 to celebrate 65 wonderful years of God's blessings, worship, and friendships.

Some former members traveled long distances to attend a special celebratory service. Pastor Richard Arndt was the liturgist, and current Pastor Tony Durante preached. Greetings from District President James Rockey were shared at both morning services.

After the service, people gathered at Colony West Golf Club in Tamarac for dinner and shared stories. Former pastors and church leaders shared memories and experiences from their time at Our Savior. Nancy Volz, the emcee, called it "The Good, the Bad and the Funny."

Pastor Richard Arndt, the church's third pastor, described the church's early history. He told the audience about the congregation's first meeting at Peter's Elementary School in 1961, and how the first church was built in less than a year by 1962 for $125,000 and was fully air-conditioned. Lutheran Hour speaker, Dr. Oswald Hoffman, was the dedication preacher.

Longtime member Howard Fischer spoke of his late wife, Barbara, who was the Early Childhood Director for the church's preschool for 28 years.

Two members, Juli Mellott and Lerryn Latimer, described how their families had been blessed by Our Savior for four and five generations respectively, a rarity for a South Florida church.

Pastors Tony Durante and Dick Arndt

(Highlights from the Anniversary Celebration Cont.) Kristin Volz Iannarone, daughter of the late Pastor Walter Volz who served at OSL for 21 years, spoke on behalf of her mother, Gloria, and shared memories of growing up at the church along with two building programs.

Jane Nicklas, wife of the late Pastor Edwin Nicklas, traveled from Virginia and shared some of their experiences. Pastor Nicklas' first day in the church office was 9/11. The school's golf tournament was also begun during his ministry, as Jane served as the school's principal.

Pastor Tony Durante, the sixth pastor who celebrated his eighth year at OSL on April 15, wrapped up the afternoon by sharing some Covid experiences as well as the church's recovery and growth.

Our Savior has been richly blessed by God's grace. Soli Deo Gloria!

Remembering Those Who Served

by Rev. Dick Arndt

The first pastor was Robert Grunow. The president of the congregation at the time was President Larry Ziebarth, who was the head of AAL (Aid Association for Lutherans). Thanks to Nancy, we know he lived a nice, full life, going on to be with the Lord at the age of 105 in 2024. I mention him because he supported the church fervently and bought our first pews, which covered half the worship area at the time.

After Pastor Arthur Machinske, came me (Pastor Dick Arndt). This was a great time of growth because of all the new families who moved in. They came from different businesses and different parts of the US, mostly from the Midwest. We had lots of transfers. It wasn't just us; all the neighboring churches, like St. Benedict's and St. Gregory, grew and built new buildings. With the growth came kids—and a lack of space to accommodate them. Because there were too many kids, I had to host bible studies at my home between services. So, we built the education center (currently the one-storied preschool bays) to hold Sunday School.

There are some notable members during my time, whom I would like to highlight:

- Orlyn & Dorothy (wife) Schlie—Orlyn was the principal of Lutheran Central. For those unfamiliar with this, Lutheran Central School (LCS) took off during the 1970s and 80s and was located where Trinity Lutheran Church of Ft. Lauderdale stands today. 1st to 8th graders could attend. Five Missouri Synod Lutheran churches in the area sponsored it.

Ground Breaking (Nov. 1984)

- Marge Freeman—The organist and choir director. She also played the organ for LCS.
- Herb Seegers—He cut the grass for us all the time.
- Herman Askren—He had a house in Everglades City, where the church council once went on a retreat. We prayed, planned, and taught a lot—and fished a lot, too. A particularly fond memory I have was when the wives of all the church council members called me during this retreat to remind the husbands to take their pills.
- Karl & Evelyn Dorn (pictured left) gave a generous donation to start Our Savior's building fund for the first education building, which was primarily used for Sunday School.
- Rev. Walter Storm—He transferred to us and took over our VBS program. He got horses for the kids to ride.
- Howard & Barbara Fischer—They were very active in every way. Barbara was especially active in education.
- And so many more.

After me came Pastor Walter Volz, who was a “dynamo”. You’ll have to ask his daughter-in-law, Nancy Volz to get close to the full breadth and scope of his ministry, but what I know is that he was mostly known for 3 big things:

- He served the US Navy as a chaplain on a ship.*
- He served many churches.*
- He headed up Food for the Poor. Not only was he active, he went overseas, and by his efforts, he helped build and establish a building to feed the people there.*

After Volz was Pastor Niklas, whom I unfortunately don’t know much about. And now, “You have God’s man for this time and place here. And you know the pastor’s name.” May the Lord who has been faithful in the past continue to guide and keep us in Christ.

Our Savior Lutheran 65th Anniversary Testimonial

by Howard Fischer

APRIL 19, 2026 Most everyone covered what I want to say, but Our Savior had a remarkable team. That team was Pastor Walter Volz, my wife Barbara, and Jan Withers.

One of the most memorable moments in the church's history was the reconstruction of the church. I was amazed everyone stayed together. During this period of construction, worship took place in the fellowship hall for over one year.

My children were confirmed here and my oldest daughter was married here.

We loved the church and the congregation. I'll continue to come down monthly for as long as I can to see all the people we love, all the people present in our 49 years at Our Savior. It was a great 49 years.

God bless and Jesus loves you.

Raymond & Beverly Schaflein (2010)

Celebrating 65 Years—And Our Place in the Story

by Juli Mellott

My family's connection to Our Savior Lutheran Church began in 1982, when my parents, Raymond and Beverly Schaflein, moved to North Lauderdale and started building their home. As they settled into the area, they began visiting the church because it was the only LCMS congregation in western Broward County at the time.

When they came to the church office to transfer their membership, they were surprised and delighted to discover a familiar face. Dolores Bethmann, the church secretary, had gone to grade school with my mom at Bethlehem and later attended Bowen High School with her in Chicago. It felt like an immediate connection and confirmation that this church would become home.

My mom became actively involved, serving on the Altar Guild and delivering for Meals on Wheels. My dad also found his place, especially enjoying serving as an usher—his favorite service being the 11:00 p.m. Christmas Eve service. Over the years, he also dedicated much of his time to the Properties Board.

I moved here and joined the church in 1984. The following year, in August 1985, Les and I were married here by Pastor Walter Volz, beginning our own family's journey within this church community.

Our daughters both received the blessings of baptism here. Jenna was baptized on Christmas Day in 1991, and Jessica in July 1996, both by Pastor Volz. They also grew up in the church's school, attending from preschool through fifth grade.

Les & Juli's Wedding (1986)

(Juli's 65th Anniversary Testimonial Cont.) Jenna was part of Mrs. Jan Wither's final preschool class before she decided to work in the church office, something we still laugh and joke about today. Both girls continued their faith journeys here, with Jenna being confirmed in April 2006 and Jessica in May 2010 by Pastor Ed Niklas.

My dad also left a lasting physical mark on the church. As a bricklayer by trade, he built the stone sign out front using materials from the remodeling of the sanctuary wall. It was a meaningful way for him to contribute his skills to a place he loved.

The church has also been a place of comfort in times of loss. Funeral services for both of my parents were held here in 2007 and 2011, officiated by Pastor Nicklas. He and my dad shared a special bond, as Pastor Niklas's father was also a bricklayer. That shared connection made their relationship even more meaningful.

Our Savior Lutheran Church has been woven into every chapter of my family's life—through beginnings, milestones, service, and remembrance. It is more than a church to us; it is home.

Celebrating 5 Generations at Our Savior Lutheran

by Lerryn Latimer

Our family has been part of Our Savior for five generations. My grandparents, Walter and Doris Wilkins, came from Michigan and joined the church approximately 1975. We would come down to attend a Tupperware convention in August every year and visit my grandparents. We loved it so much that we made the move ourselves in 1980. That was the same time Pastor Volz became the new pastor.

At the time, our children, Jamie and Suzie, were 10 and 8 years old. Jamie was confirmed by Pastor Volz in 1983, and Suzie in 1985. My parents, Donald and Renee Wilkins, decided they liked it and moved down in 1983. My grandfather died in 1984, and his funeral was here at Our Savior. My parents decided to move back to Michigan in 1986.

Our son, Jamie, was married here by Pastor Volz in 1994, and Suzie following in 1995. Our granddaughter, Kayla, was baptized here in 1998, then our grandson, Craig, was baptized here in 2002 by Pastor Nicklas. Craig was confirmed here in 2017, but Kayla when to a church closer to their home to be confirmed due to date conflicts with the classes. Jamie's boys were baptized at a church in Boynton Beach.

To God be the glory—for the past 65 years, and for all the years to come.

A Legacy of Faith: Reflections from the Volz Family

written and compiled by Kristin Iannarone (née) Volz

Reflections from Gloria

*Remembering Milestones, Ministry, & Moments
From 21 Years of Faithful Service*

When my mother (Gloria) was asked about her memories looking back over the years at OSL, she shared the following things that Dad, Pastor Walter Volz, treasured during his 21 years here as pastor:

- The Mayor's Prayer Breakfast: He started this event in Plantation with Rabbi Haar, with whom Dad developed a long-lasting friendship over the years.

- The 1984 Building Program, which included the construction of the elementary school.
- The 1993 Church Renovation: This project included turning the church around, adding the current chancel and balcony, and building Luther Hall.
- During this time, the church offices were located in a satellite facility (affectionately called the SO, which stood for Satellite Office).
- He especially loved working with the city and Mayor Frank Veltri; occasional friendly bickering over building codes often occurred.
- Hurricane Andrew changed the building codes mid-project, and many things had to be changed, completed, and rebuilt.
- He had nine years of working with nine vicars, and the team of Pastor Volz, Barbara Fischer, and Jan Withers was known as "The Trifecta".
- Mom loved teaching Sunday School and VBS, serving on the altar guild, singing in the choir, and ringing bells.

Reflections from Kristin

Personal Stories of Faith, Family, & Growing Up in a Life of Ministry

Dad loved building churches...that was a huge part of his ministry. I never imagined as a child “running through” those renovations that I would be teaching in those buildings today. I can definitely say I know these buildings inside and out. During this same period, he also helped to build a school and remodel the chapel on the AUTECH Navy base on Andros Island in the Bahamas. This led to meeting the artist that designed our current windows, altar, pulpit, and lectern. The inspiration for all those things came from chapel on that Navy base.

Another part of his ministry here was visiting shut-ins...elderly or those who, for whatever reason, could not come to church. I was fascinated by this and his “to go” as I called it—a communion kit and his “pastors’ companion”, a small version of the Lutheran book of worship. So, I asked to go along. I was somewhere around 9 or 10. It was then I saw how dad interacted away from church with people. Those were special times we spent together. It was probably then that he planted the seed that eventually led me to teaching and how I learned to interact with and talk to all kinds of people. I went on calls with him all the way through middle and high school.

There are so many things I could talk about. Dad was very involved in the Plantation Clergy Association and also participated in the 3-hour service on Good Friday held at Plantation United Methodists each year. He, along with other clergy from various churches, would come and go throughout the service and read the story of Christ’s crucifixion. It is important to note that Dad ALWAYS read the last word. If you knew dad...He always had the last word in most things...church and home.

I was asked about funny things and/or stories. There are so many with me, this church, dad, and others throughout my childhood here. Dad always put me to work.

- I was the Murphy’s Oil Soap Girl in the old church in the summer. I cleaned. Every. Single. Pew. I waxed and cleaned all the floors under the pews. It took hours!*
- If Dad could have David or me do a task, we did it. David was always saving for something, and I was always paying something off. So, I was “free labor”.*
- There are two particularly funny and well-known ones. The first is the story of when our Confirmation class (that he taught) got into trouble and Dad wrote letters to the class. Mine arrived addressed “to the parents of Kristin Volz”. The other is, once, when I was in a hurry to pick Dad up on time, I misjudged the distance—and was probably distracted pulling into Dad’s parking space. I took a few chunks of concrete out of the wall as well as Dad’s “Pastor’s Parking” sign. At the time, we shared a large, yellow, beastly, 72 Cadillac.*

- Both David and I would sit in Dad's office at home or church and, of course, he always had an answer or comment. Neither of us really got to complain or lament about too much. He always had an answer, and his answers and comments usually came in the form of a story. I can remember telling him about a particularly hard professor I had in graduate school and his response was, "You can't change the professor, so do what they want and pass the class."

Dad did many things and rarely sat still for long, and therefore Our Savior did not sit still either.

Dad loved the festival services of Christmas Eve and Easter morning, but he especially treasured Christmas morning...He would say this almost every year to the Christmas morning worshipers even into his 80's: "While I love the festive services, I love the quiet, small Christmas morning with just a few who have taken time away from the frenzy to come to worship". He would go on to reference his Navy days and add he could have a service in the field with 30 marines or with just one on the fantail of a ship; it was about bringing the word of Christ and hope in Jesus to the people.

Dad talked to everyone, everywhere, all the time. For 21 years he loved and served Our Savior Lutheran Church. His ministry was about faith, community, building, and bringing the Word of Christ to people. From its beginnings to what lies ahead, this church stands on Christ—and will continue to grow in His love.

Kristin and Joe's Wedding (May 5, 2024)

Our Savior Lutheran Church & School 65th Anniversary (April 19, 2026)

by Jane Niklas

Good afternoon, everyone. I'm Jane Nicklas, and I'm so happy to be here to celebrate the 65th anniversary of Our Savior Lutheran church and School.

My husband Ed was called as the pastor here in 2001, and I became principal the next year. That was when I realized God had a great sense of humor. I swore I'd never be an administrator, and I'd never work with my husband. It took a few years, but eventually I hit the trifecta by retiring in FL – the last thing I'd never do.

Ed and I were proud of our years here. But we knew we were standing on the shoulders of the members who came before us. Those men and women, like Pastor Arndt and Pastor Volz, established the mission of Our Savior to this community. The school had several leaders, but the person who established the preschool was Barbara Fisher, along with her friend Gloria Volz. I only worked with them for two years before their retirements, but they are still the models for the care and education in the preschool. You are missed, Barbara, for your creativity, hard work, and style. Thank you, Howard, for sharing her with us. I believe a few people I hired are still here.

I believe there are 8 teachers I hired who are still at Our Savior. I'm glad I was smart enough to hire all those amazing women. I've been retired for 13 years, and I applaud Linda Root for creating a school where the staff is so committed to the education ministry. It's so nice to see Heather Bleier here, too.

I live in northern Virginia now, and I get a little wistful at Christmas and Easter. I can't plant the wilting poinsettias in my backyard after Christmas, and there's a line item in the church budget for the same kind of palms we'd cut from behind the church for free. However, I haven't met anyone in Virginia who had to investigate how to get iguanas from nesting in the preschool playground either.

When Ed and I arrived in South Florida, it didn't take long to see how Our Savior responds to crisis. My husband was installed on September 9, 2001, and two days later, the Twin Towers were attacked. Consoling our collective grief was the priority. Over the years, Our Savior welcomed people who suffered property loss from hurricanes, sent supplies to Haiti after the earthquake of 2010, and comforted each other at the loss of loved ones in the school community.

Worship service after Hurricane Wilma (2005)

But there were many happy moments too. One Friday afternoon, Ed was officiating a wedding. The church was packed, and the bride was ready to enter the church. Little did they know, but the after-school children were getting a demonstration on how cotton candy was made. It turns out the spinning machine puts out enough heat to set off the smoke alarms- which is exactly what happened. So, everyone had to evacuate the church. Of course, the students were thrilled to have all the fire trucks arrive with their sirens going strong. Once they realized the cause, the firefighters wrapped things up and were ready to go. But my husband asked the firefighters to join the bride first for some photos. Now that's a wedding album I'd like to see.

After Hurricane Wilma in 2005, we were determined to hold Sunday Services even though we didn't have any power. But Ed and Jan Withers ran off bulletins with our generator, the preschool was cleared of its Halloween motif, and the pumpkins were reworked as fall décor. We needed all the windows and doors open, so Dorothy Schawk stationed herself at one set of doors to chase away any curious Muscovy ducks.

Our Savior was able to open earlier than the public schools because our power was restored sooner. The staff met, and we decided that since the children had missed out on trick or treating during Wilma, we'd invite parents to send in their candy. We had our usual costume parade, and then the children trick-or-treated at stations on the property. On that day, I felt like the boy with the fish and loaves. Candy was everywhere! We couldn't even give it all away.

One thing I've always been proud of at our school is how the students are prepared from the youngest age to participate in worship services. During one preschool Christmas program, my job was to sit on a small chair next to the lectern and help the children as they climbed up to the microphone. This time it was 4-year-old Jared Khan Bagley, ready to be one of the Magi. When he finished his line, I helped him step down. I told him he did a wonderful job and gave him a hug. He looked at me and said, "Can I have a kiss too?" A few years ago, I went to Jared's graduation from Syracuse University. I want to admit that I did all the obnoxious things I asked parents not to do – I went up too close to take pictures, yelled his name, and waved from my seat. I was so proud when, later, he introduced me as his first principal. I'm also proud that he went on to get a master's in education and is now teaching special ed in the Syracuse area.

A number of years ago, Our Savior became involved with Transforming Churches Network. My husband presented a plan for Our Savior to be more involved in the community. At one point, we had 40 volunteers at Mirror Lake Elementary School, Guy Shepherd led four musical groups at Christmas at Los Olas, as well as a number of assisted living facilities and at the mall. We started a book club that is still going strong under Carol Tucek's leadership. I'm a member, because we meet by Zoom each month.

About the same time, Dorothy Schawk used her unique powers of persuasion to beautify our property. Somehow, she convinced us to use our own money and our sweat equity to “adopt a plot” and make our own money to make Our Savior even more lovely. Her efforts were rewarded by an award from the City of Plantation.

In fact, I was happy to see all the awards that Our Savior received from the city, county, and the public school system. They represent the love OSL has for our neighbors and the willingness to put that love into action.

My history here was full of blessings. My daughter Janice was married here in 2005, and in 2007, Ed and I got word that our first grandchild was born back in Virginia. I ran down to the church to tell Ed. I found him and Jan on ladders painting the interior of the church. But they put their paint brushes down long enough for hugs and tears.

In 2013, I was diagnosed with breast cancer. Ed called the church and the school offices. The next day, I arrived to see all our doors covered in giant pink paper bows. At Chapel that day, I was greeted by all the staff and the students wearing pink. But the moment of hope came the day after. I was outside, and a preschool class was walking by. A little girl stopped and asked me, “Are you all better now?” and I was. I was ready to face whatever was in my future.

Whenever I’m in the church, I think of something Debra Beck would tell her four-year-old students. She’d point to the risen Jesus on the cross and tell them that Jesus was welcoming them with a big hug. I like to think that’s exactly what Our Savior does for everyone – welcomes us with a hug.

I received one of those hugs in 2018 when my husband died. The hug was in the arms and kind words of Pastor Tony and so many people in this community, including John and Glenda Strang, Jan, Ivan Swartsfigure, Denise Kunz, Cindy Davis, Dorothy Schawk, and Kathy Mahaffey. They walked with me during Ed’s long goodbye with Alzheimer’s. I will never forget it.

This morning, Jan and I watched the anniversary church service together. Jan needs all our prayers and a hug from Jesus as she faces treatments for leukemia. Thank you, Pastor Tony, for caring for Jan with words of hope and God’s presence in this journey.

I know we can all celebrate the love that Our Savior Lutheran has given to the members, the school, and the community for 65 years. And, the next time you’re sitting in the pew, let yourself feel the welcoming hug Jesus offers to you.

Special Thank You's From Nancy Volz

To all who participated in OSL's 65th Anniversary Celebration,

We last celebrated our congregation's anniversary 15 years ago. Since then, we have welcomed new members and friends, making now a perfect time to share our story.

Thank you, thank you, thank you!

To all who participated in the Celebration Service: Pastor Tony, who served as Preacher; Pastor Dick Arndt, who was Liturgist; Juli Mellott, who shared her family testimony; John Waldron, who provided beautiful flowers; Carisa Meier and Glen Walters, who performed special music; the Praise Team and Tech Team, who enhanced the worship experience; Stanley Leonard, who contributed an original handbell composition; and the Handbell Choir, who performed this music for us.

Nancy Volz, emcee at the 65th Anniversary Reception (2026)

Nancy's New Member Reception (1993)

To those who made the dinner special: Committee members who coordinated the event; Debi Bauer, Ellen Clark, Agnes Karabetsos, Kim Marshall, Juli Mellott, Nancy Volz, and Jan Withers, who managed key tasks; Linda Root, who provided assistance; Andy Clark, who handled technical support; Juli Mellott, who designed the logo and merchandise; Jan Withers, who provided photos; Ellen Clark, who supplied the cake; the Fellowship Committee, who created the ornaments; and our speakers—Pastor Dick Arndt, Howard Fischer, Lerryn Latimer, Kristin Volz Iannarone, Jane Nicklas, and Pastor Tony Durante—who shared meaningful words.

Handbell Festival 2020

And to all who attended the service and dinner, your presence made it a grand celebration! Thank you for making the vision a reality!

The idea of mission outreach to Plantation was first discussed in 1960. At that time, the Florida-Georgia District had already purchased land and was in the process of calling a pastor to serve the new mission.

The first worship service was held on April 9, 1961, in the cafeteria of Peters Elementary School, with 90 people in attendance. Robert Grunow was installed as the congregation's first pastor on April 30, 1961.

Within one year, a church building was completed and dedicated on April 8, 1962. The dedication featured Oswald Hoffman as guest speaker. The original church, built at a cost of $125,000, seated 300 people and was fully air-conditioned.

Early childhood education began with a kindergarten program led by Addie Baurer. In 1962, the Lutheran School Association was formed in partnership with OSL, Grace, Peace, and Trinity. Orlyn Schlie served as the first principal of Lutheran Central, located at Trinity.

1970s

During the 1970s, the church experienced significant growth in both membership and spiritual life. In 1972, an education building was constructed, featuring 12 classrooms, a kitchen, and a large open space for events.

The early childhood program expanded to include 3- and 4-year-olds. Joan Brumbaum served as director, followed by Barbara Fischer in 1978.

Also in 1972, the first Vacation Bible School (VBS) was held over two weeks, with 200 children from the church and surrounding community attending.

Music and fellowship ministries flourished under choir director Gerry Gruenbaum. New groups included the Couples Club, a senior group known as the "Keenagers," and youth ministries—OSLY (high school) and JOSLY (junior high).

In 1973, voting rights within the congregation were expanded to include 18-year-old males and all women of the church.

1980s

In the 1980s, Pastor Volz established a vicarage program, through which nine vicars eventually served the congregation.

In 1982, the Lutheran School Association determined that OSL should begin the Lutheran Central West Campus. Groundbreaking for a new education building took place in January 1984, and the building was dedicated just seven months later in time for the 1984–1985 school year.

Children's choir and handbell choir programs were also established during this decade. Marvin Oestmann became principal of Lutheran Central and served as the church organist.

By the late 1980s, OSL's early childhood program and Lutheran Central West Campus were unified as Our Savior Lutheran School. Dolores Bethmann began serving as church secretary in 1986.

1990s

The congregation stepped forward boldly in faith during the 1990s, expanding the sanctuary and adding Luther Hall as part of a major building program. During construction, Sunday services were held in the education building.

The new sanctuary was dedicated on December 12, 1993. Several meaningful elements from the original church were incorporated, including the marble altar top and the Risen Jesus figure placed on the cross. Furnishings and woodwork were handcrafted in the Bahamas by John Mitchell.

A two-story classroom and office addition was also completed. Dan Czaplewski was called as the first Assistant Pastor and School Principal.

The school received its first National Lutheran School Accreditation (NLSA) in 1993. A Worship and Praise service was introduced in 1995.

Barbara Fischer was honored as OSL's first Educator of the Year in 1991. Outreach efforts included support for the Cooperative Feeding Program, Project Angel Tree, the Lippman Shelter, and Seafarers' House at Port Everglades.

Jan Withers became church secretary in 1997.

2000s

Pastor Volz retired in August 2001. After a brief interim period with Elmer Medley, Ed Nicklas was installed as pastor.

The Praise Service evolved into a contemporary worship service with communion, known as Shout for Joy. The Crossways two-year Bible study was offered multiple times, each with new insights and learning opportunities.

A Visioning Day was held in November 2003. Nancy Volz joined the staff as Finance Director in 2000. Heather Bleier was called as Director of Christian Education (DCE) in 2006 after completing her internship in 2005.

Members who entered pastoral ministry included Michael Wentzel (2002), Lisa Barry (2002), Roy Olsen (2005), and Shane McCoy (2013).

Dorothy Schawk reorganized the Church Properties Board, introducing a system for members to sponsor care zones around the church. The congregation received Plantation's P.L.A.N.T. Award and developed a church logo.

Jane Nicklas became principal in 2002. The Swing for Scholars Golf Tournament was established in 2003.

Donna Swift (2004) and Linda Root (2009) were named Educator of the Year. The school expanded with a 2-year-old program (2005) and middle school (2006), with its first eighth-grade graduation in 2007. The School Annual Fund was established in 2006.

In 2009, participation in the Transforming Churches Network (TCN) led to the adoption of the vision statement: Serving Christ – Serving Others – Changing Lives.

The church became an active mentoring partner with Mirror Lake Elementary School and supported organizations such as LifeNet4Families, Mission: Haiti, and Food for the Poor. Music groups regularly served in the community through singing and handbell performances.

2010s

In 2010, OSL received the Exemplary Congregation Award from the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod (LCMS), with Ed Nicklas addressing the national convention.

The 50th Anniversary was celebrated in 2011 with three major events held in January, March, and May.

Pastor Walter D Volz celebrated 50 years of ordained ministry. In his honor, the Reverend Walter D. Volz Servant of Christ Award was established, with Libby Martino as its first recipient. To date, 15 individuals have received this recognition.

Ed Nicklas retired in 2013, followed by Jane Nicklas in 2014. Linda Root became School Principal in 2014.

Tony Durante was called to serve as shepherd in 2018.

2020s

The decade began with the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020, followed by a period of recovery and restoration for both the church and school.

And the rest... is history!

Loved Through It All: A Hug from God and a Grateful Heart

by Belinda Aguilar

This is my story on how I became part of the Our Savior Lutheran Church and School Family.

I was working for a title company that was on Broward and 70th and when we purchased our home in 2002, I would always take 5th Street to go home. I would drive by the church and say to myself “I really have to get back to church”. However, I was too shy to go by myself.

The next year, I gave birth to Stephanie, my mom moved down from New Jersey to help me, and the first thing she said was she needed to find a church. I told her I knew of one and I would drive her, but she would go alone because I was still too shy to attend with her. March of 2004, Mom finally convinces me to attend, and I take Stephanie with me—she’s 4 months old. As I walk in carrying Stephanie, sitting in the front pew by the entrance is Marie Shanahan, Arlene Blumm, Dorothy Schawk, Ed and Helene Craft. We sit behind them, and Arlene takes Stephanie from my arms. It was that day Stephanie received a few more grandparents. A few months later, we became members of Our Savior Lutheran. Every Sunday, I would attend, bringing Stephanie along, and Pastor Nicklas’ sermons always helped put Stephanie to sleep.

When Stephanie was 3 years old, she became very ill and was in the hospital for 3 weeks. Pastor Nicklas, Judy Detwiler, and Marie Shanahan came by to pray and spend some time with us. When I needed emergency surgery, Pastor Nicklas showed up pre-op and prayed over me. I always knew that in my time of need, I would have my church family.

Stephanie was a student at OSL from 3 years old to 8th grade. I loved going to all the school functions and the class trips to the zoo, St. Augustine, Kennedy Space Center, and Washington DC. There was a time when I lost my job and was having a hard time finding work. It was also getting hard to pay for Stephanie to attend school. I received a call from Linda Root, and she told me that someone was going to take care of the tuition for the remainder of the school year. I still don’t know who my angel was; but I thank you every day, even now because Stephanie was able to stay attending OSL. Thank you to all the OSL teachers. You will always have a special place in my heart.

Now, 2022 to 2024 were the years that challenged my faith. 2022 was Stephanie’s senior year of high school and that meant college tours, prom and graduation; so, it was supposed to be a happy milestone. However, at the beginning of the year, my dad and my brother’s health took a turn for the worse, and mom’s dementia was starting to ramp up. In April 2022, my dad passes, so I go up to New Jersey for the funeral and to pick up mom as my brother can no longer take care of her.

A month later, my brother passes and it's me taking care of Mom alone. I questioned many times why God took my brother so young and left me to take care of Mom who was becoming more forgetful and erratic so quickly. I felt like, "Why am I being punished?" I never did anything wrong to anyone and I have my faith, so why would I be going through all of this? I got angry and questioned, "What's the point of going to church if my prayers aren't answered?" So, I stopped going. Then, I got really sick and was in the hospital for 4 days. Pastor Tony visited me and helped me realize that this will pass and God is listening; so, I did go back to church. Stephanie was doing well in college, and I eventually found the perfect place for Mom.

All was starting to finally get better until 2024, when Mom started to slow down drastically. I visited her every day after work, and my only free time was Saturdays and Sunday mornings for church. It was really taking a toll on me, and I was getting burned out; so, my husband and I planned this big family road trip in July. But Mom took a turn for the worse. She passed two days before our trip, and we were going to cancel it. During the planning of the funeral, I told Pastor Tony we were going to cancel our trip and he said don't. He told me that I should take the trip and reassured me there's a reason for everything. I'm so glad we went because I believed I saw Heaven on Earth. I sent pictures to Pastor and told him I feel like I was being hugged by God.

Something from that trip made us realize we needed a change and we knew that our time in Florida has come to an end. It's time for our next chapter. Last year, we were trying to figure out where we were planning on moving to and did our research. We decided and took a trip to check out the area—Minnesota. And yes, we know it's cold. January of this year, we went back up and the highs for those days were in the negatives, but we picked out our lot anyway. Now, the rush is to get our house ready to sell here and start packing. Through this process, I felt the Spirit and a sense of knowing we are doing the right thing.

I knew the first day driving by the church in 2002, this was going to be my church home, but now I say goodbye to Florida and goodbye to my Our Savior family. Thank you all for welcoming me and my family to this wonderful congregation. I'm going to miss you all, especially my hugs from Gloria and Nancy. Thank you again, I love you all, and God bless.
